

Summer Institute in Migration Research Methods

Overview

The Summer Institute in Migration Research Methods will provide 10 days of training in best practices and methodologies especially relevant to the study of immigration and migrant populations from June 7th - June 15th. It targets early career scholars (graduate students, postdocs, and untenured junior faculty five years from Ph.D.).

SIMRM 2023 will focus on interviewing as a migration research methodology.

Agenda

Date	Topic
June 7, 2023 (IGS Library)	Establishing the basics: Why interview? How do we do this ethically?
June 8, 2023 (117 Dwinelle Hall)	Jennifer Glick: survey research and comparative projects
June 9, 2023 (117 Dwinelle Hall)	Tomás Jimenez – indepth interviews, mixed methods projects
June 12, 2023 (117 Dwinelle Hall)	Taeku Lee – surveys, recruitment, response rates, measuring race, etc.
June 13, 2023 (117 Dwinelle Hall)	Ana Martinez-Donate – mixed methods, health & interviewing, community-engaged
June 14, 2023 (117 Dwinelle Hall)	Coding Indepth Interviews & Building professional skills – the media, winning grants

June 15, 2023 (IGS Library)	Project feedback and wrap-up
June 15, 2023 (6-8 pm, Deutsch Lounge, Unit 1)	Farewell dinner

Daily Break Schedule

Summer Institute will last from 9:00 am -4:30 pm (PST) on weekdays.

10:20 am - 10:40 am	Coffee Break
12:15 pm - 1:15 pm	Lunch
2:45 pm - 3:00 pm	Break